GOODWILL PROGRAMS SERVING COLORADO DURING COVID-19

During these unprecedented times, Goodwill's mission—helping individuals achieve greater independence—is more important than ever. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, we have adapted many of our programs to serve more Coloradans.

Goodwill's career development programs serve more than 100,000 Coloradans each year—including military veterans, seniors, youth, individuals with disabilities and those with economic challenges. Through our retail operations, workforce development programs, community partnerships and social enterprises, Goodwill has been part of the fabric that makes Colorado communities strong. For more than a century we have helped individuals access career and life pathways that help them tap into their potential.

With a strong focus on job training and support services, Goodwill has the expertise, reach, and capacity to help serve.
